The Client may trade forex 24/5. Certain financial instruments trade during specific time frames. Company holidays shall be announced on the Company website.

3.1.2 Market Making

In certain markets, including the foreign exchange markets and CFD Contracts, the Company may act as a 'Market Maker', i.e., we may take the risk of holding a certain number of Supported Financial Instruments in order to facilitate trading in these Financial Instruments by displaying/quoting 'bid' and 'ask' prices ('buy' and 'sell' quotations) for such Supported Financial Instruments on our Online Trading Facility and filling Orders received in respect to such Supported Financial Instruments from our own inventory or seeking an Offsetting Order.

Following execution of any position, We may, at its reasonable discretion, subsequently off-set each such position with you with another client position or with a position with one of our counterparties, or it may decide to retain a proprietary position in the Market with the intention to obtain trading profits from such positions. Such decisions and actions may therefore result in off-setting client positions at prices that are different from the Price Quotes initially provided to you, resulting in trading profits or losses for our Company. This in turn can raise the possibility of you incurring an implied cost (i.e., the difference between the price at which you traded with Us and the price at which the company subsequently traded with its counterparties and/or other clients), due to any profits realised by our company as a result of the Market Making function. However, please note that the Market Making function may involve significant costs to the company, if the market moves against it in comparison to the price at which we traded with you.

The Client hereby accepts that in such Markets where the Company acts as Market Maker, it may hold positions that are contrary to Clients' positions, resulting in potential conflicts of interest.

In Markets, where the Company acts as a Market Maker, the Client accepts that the company has no obligation to quote prices to the clients, at any time in any given Market, nor shall it have an obligation to provide such Price Quotes to the Client and/or any of its other clients with a specific maximum spread.

You acknowledge, recognise and accept that the Price Quotes provided to you include a 'spread' when compared with the price for which the company may have covered or expected to be able to 'cover' the Transaction or Contract in a trade with another client or a counterparty; furthermore, you acknowledge, recognise and accept the said 'spread' constitutes remuneration to the Company and that such 'spread' cannot necessarily be calculated individually for all Transactions and/or Contracts and that such 'spread' shall not be specified at the Settlement/Trade Confirmation.

Any commission costs, interest charges, costs associated to and included in the 'spreads' that are part of the Price Quotes provided by Us acting as a Market Maker in certain Markets, and any other fees and charges shall consequently influence your trading result(s) and may have a negative effect on your trading performance compared to a situation in which such commission costs, interest charges, costs associated to and included in the 'spreads', would not apply.

Whilst dealing 'spreads' and commissions are normally considered moderate in relation to the value of the Financial Instruments traded, such costs may be considerable when compared with your Margin deposit. As a consequence, thereof, your Margin deposit may be depleted by the trading losses, which you may incur and by the directly dealing costs such as commissions, interest charges and brokerage fees, as well as by the afore-mentioned costs for you that are caused by the Company performing as a Market Maker.

If you are an active trader and you are undertaking numerous Transactions and/or Contracts, the total impact of costs may be significant. Consequently, you may have to obtain significant profits in order to cover the costs associated with the trading activities you undertake with Us as a Market Maker. For very active clients, such costs may over time, exceed the value of the Margin deposited with the company. Normally, when trading Margin derivatives, the lower the percentage of the applicable Margin rate, the higher the proportion of the costs associated with executing a Transaction and/or Contract.

You are hereby being notified that CFDs are OTC products quoted by the Company whilst operating as a Market Maker and are not traded on an organised stock exchange. As a result, the description above of the implied costs related to the company's performance as a Market Maker, may also apply to any CFD Contract.

4. Registration

The Company is obliged by the applicable laws to confirm and verify the identity of each person who registers on our system and opens an Account with Us. Therefore, at any given time, commencing from the establishment of a relationship (i.e. from the date of your registration) with Us we will ask you to provide personally identifiable information in order for us to comply with our regulatory obligation. 7. Account Opening and Types of Accounts

7.1 Account Opening

Prospective clients complete the registration procedure by providing relevant personal information, economic profile, KYC documents and by completing the Questionnaire (Appropriateness and Suitability test).

Prospective clients can provide their KYC documents and choose to complete the Appropriateness Questionnaire within fifteen (15) days from initial contact in which case there will be a deposit limit of €2000 and restrictions on trading. If the prospective client does not provide the remaining information by the end of the deadline, then any funds deposited shall be returned to the client's bank account used for depositing the respective funds from which they originated immediately at the termination point regardless if the client has requested the return of their funds or not. Returned funds includes any profits the client has gained and deducting any losses incurred (i.e. the balance) and the account will be closed immediately.

Clients that wish to have no restrictions on trading may proceed to fully complete their profile (KYC documents and Appropriateness Questionnaire).

If you have more than one (1) trading account, the Company reserves the right to treat all such accounts as if they were under one (1) account. We may limit the number of trading accounts maintained by any individual or within a single household at our sole discretion. You acknowledge and confirm that we may without notice to the Client take such actions to protect the Company's position by merging your accounts, set-off between your accounts or to satisfy any obligations that you may have towards the Company from funds in our custody.

7.2 Demo Accounts

Demo accounts shall be available to the client in case the result of the appropriateness test is lower than 30 or in case the client has opted to open a demo account through the Company's website at their own initiative. Upon completion of his/her personal details, an automatic email with the Demo Account Number and credentials for the MT4 platform shall be sent to the client, including the link to download the platform. Demo accounts remain open for 90 days. The Client may then proceed to a Live Trading Account provided that the client has succeeded in the new appropriateness test.

7.3 Standard and Cent Account

7.3.1 Execution of Client's Requests and Instructions

Quotation mechanisms which are used in order to trade are specified in the Standard Account Trading Conditions/Contract Specifications which can be found on the Company's website.

The procedure for handling the Client's instructions and requests given through the MT4 platform is:

-  The Client prepares an Instruction or a request and the MT4 platform checks if its valid;
-  The MT4 platform sends the instruction or request to the server;
-  If the connection between the MT4 platform and the server has not been disrupted the server receives the instruction or request and starts the process of verification;

- ✚ A valid Client's request or instruction is placed in the queue and sorted by arrival time (first in – first out) and the status "Order is accepted" appears in the "Order" window in the client terminal. The Company shall not be responsible for any delays in the execution of any Orders in Abnormal Market Conditions;
- ✚ As soon as a Dealer is ready to handle a new instruction or request the Dealer takes the first instruction or request from the queue and processes it and the "Order in process" status appears in the "Order" window in the MT4 platform;
- ✚ The server receives from the Dealer the result of the Client's request or instruction execution process;
- ✚ The server sends the MT4 platform the result of the Client's request or instruction execution process; and
- ✚ The result of the request or instruction execution is received by the MT4 platform if the connection between the client terminal and the server has not been disrupted.

The Client has the right to cancel a previously given request or instruction only if the request or instruction has the status "Order is accepted". In order to cancel it the Client shall press the "Cancel Order" button. The Client cannot cancel a request or instruction given by an Export Advisor.

If the instruction or the request is being processed by a Dealer and its status is "Order is in process" the Client has no right to cancel it.

Quotes which the Client receives through the client terminal for the instruments quoted in the "Request Execution Mode" are indicative only.

The Company at its sole discretion will specify the current market price.

The amount of time a Dealer needs to execute the instruction, or the request depends on the quality of the connection between the MT4 platform and the server as well as on the Normal Market Conditions. If a Dealer has not received a request or instruction it is deemed to be irrelevant and automatically deleted. Under Abnormal Market Conditions, the Company reserves the right in its sole discretion to reject any Orders for execution.

In the circumstances listed below the Company may decline an instruction or a request whereby a message in the MT4 Platform will appear as "Off quotes"):

- ✚ If the Client's free margin is less than the initial margin;
- ✚ If the instruction or request precedes the first quote in the MT4 Platform on the Market Opening;
- ✚ If current conditions are different from Normal Market Conditions;

- ✚ If the Client has made unreasonable number of request in comparison with the number of transactions;
- ✚ In any other cases based on the sole discretion of the Company.

7.3.2 Placing an Order

In order to give an instruction to place a Pending Order the Client shall specify the following specifications are required:

- ✚ Instrument;
- ✚ Transaction size;
- ✚ Order Type;
- ✚ Order Level.

The Company reserves the right to decline any order/transaction at any given time in its sole discretion. It further reserves the right to cancel, modify, suspend or discontinue temporarily or permanently at any given time in its sole discretion any existing order or the ability to place any orders including but not limited to limit orders such as Stop Loss, Take Profit, Buy Limit/Sell Limit either generally or with respect to a specific instrument or with respect to a specific direction of a specific instrument.

The Client shall be responsible for the monitoring of all Orders.

7.3.3 Transactions

The Ask price is used to make a “Buy” transaction. The BID price is used to make a “Sell” transaction:

- ✚ The ASK price is used to open a Long Position. The BID price is used to open a Short Position;
- ✚ The BID price is used to close a Long Position (i.e. sell). The ASK price is used to close a Short Position (i.e. buy).

7.3.4 Rollovers

Rollover is the process of extending the settlement date of an open position (i.e. date by which an executed trade is due to be settled). The forex market allows two (2) business days for settling all spot trades, which implies the physical delivery of currencies. In margin trading, however, there is no physical delivery, so all open positions must be closed daily at the end-of-day (22:00 GMT) and be re-opened on the following trading day. This pushes out the settlement by one more trading day. This process is called rollover.

We may allow open positions to be rolled over in accordance with your instructions. Rollover is agreed-on through a swap contract which comes at a cost on or at a gain for traders. We do not close and re-open positions but shall charge you a fee in respect of each such position and debit/credit your trading Account(s) for positions held open overnight, depending on the current interest rates. As 00:00 GMT +2 is considered to be the beginning and the end of a forex trading day, any positions which remain open at 23:59 GMT +2 sharp are subject to rollover and shall be held overnight. Positions being opened at 00:01 GMT +2 are not subject to a rollover until the next day, but if you open a position at 23:59 GMT +2, a rollover shall take place at 00:00 GMT +2. For each position open at 23:59 GMT +2 a relevant credit or debit appears in your Account usually within 1 hour and shall be directly applied to your equity.

The Rollover Fees that we charge shall be published on our Online Trading Facility. We shall attempt to collect the respective Rollover Fees from the balance of your Trading Account. In the event that, we are unable to collect such Rollover Fee(s) from the balance in your Account, we reserve the right to close part, or all, of your open positions as per our Order Execution Policy. You shall be liable for promptly paying all Rollover Fees(s), even if all Margin previously deposited by the Client has been lost.

In the absence of clear and timely received instructions from you, we are authorized, at our absolute discretion, to offset all or any portion of the positions in your Account(s) or to make or receive delivery on your behalf upon such terms and by any methods deemed reasonable by the Company.

7.3.5 Spreads

The Company will provide quotes for all instruments with a flexible Spread:

- ✚ The minimum spread for each instrument is specified in the trading conditions/Contract Specifications of each Account type which can be found on the Company's website;
- ✚ The maximum spread for each instrument under Normal Market Conditions is available upon request.

7.3.6 Quotes Base Synchronisation

In case of an unforeseen break in the Quotes Flow caused by software or hardware failure the Company has the right to synchronise the Quotes Base on the real/live server from other sources.

7.3.7 Leverage and Margin

This Leverage and Margin ratios are issued pursuant to, and in compliance with the requirements of ESMA relevant regulations and the Investment Services and Activities and Regulated Markets Law of the Republic of Cyprus as those amended and/or replaced from time to time.

The Company's obligations are the following:

- ✚ To set leverage levels that reflect the client's knowledge and experience in trading in complex financial instruments like CFDs given that trading with leverage and margin is a key characteristic of trading in CFDs;
- ✚ Its duty to treat the client fairly by avoiding aggressive leverage practices;
- ✚ To have regard to the underlying performance fundamentals of the financial instrument on which the CFD is based, including historic volatility, depth of market [liquidity and trading volumes], market capitalization of the issuer and country of issuer of the underlying financial instrument, our ability to hedge market risk and the general political and economic environment. The Company will adjust and calibrate the above variables in determining the leverage levels it offers for asset classes or financial instruments;

- ✚ The client's own risk management appetite and risk bearing capacity and to have in place policies, procedures and practices to manage its (primarily) market risk emanating from such leverage and margin trading by its clients;
- ✚ To apply regulatory requirements and caps as set by the CySEC or any other regulator in any jurisdiction we offer our services to.

The Client's Obligations are the following:

- ✚ The Company shall rely on the information provided by the client regarding their knowledge, experience, financial situation and investment objectives;
- ✚ The client acknowledges that the Company's assessment of client's use of its leverage ratios is performed based on the information and documents provided by the client, and that the client confirms the truthfulness, correctness and completeness of such information;
- ✚ That the Company may rely upon such information and that the client is responsible for any damages or losses which may result from any inaccuracies.

"Balance" is the sum of net deposits to client's trading account plus realized profit and loss minus commissions plus/minus swap fees.

"Equity" is the sum of Balance plus unrealized profit & loss.

"Leverage" is the ratio showing by how many times the purchasing power of deposit is increased. E.g., a leverage of 1:30, means that for a $1,000 deposit you can open trades worth maximum of $30,000 (1000 x 30).

"Margin Rate" is the percentage rate of the volume traded required to open a position

"Margin Requirement" is the amount of money based on the margin rate needed to open a position, to the actual market exposure of that position.

FX Margin Requirement = (Lots * Contract Size) * Margin Rate

"Leveraged Trading" or "Margin Trading" means that the client can trade amounts significantly higher than his/her deposit. "Maintenance Margin" refers to the minimum equity you need to have in order to keep your positions open. This is also commonly referred to as "maintenance requirement" or "minimum maintenance" and is the same as the Stop Out.

The Company's Maintenance Margin is currently 80%. If your Maintenance Margin reaches 80%, your positions will start to liquidate starting from the position with the highest losses.

"Margin" is the sum of Margin Requirements for all open positions.

"Margin Level" is a percentage derived by:

Margin Level = Equity / Margin

A "Margin Call" takes place when the client's Margin Level is at or below 80% and the client needs to either close some positions or deposit more funds in his/her account to maintain the relevant positions open.

A "Stop Out" takes place when the client's Margin Level is at or below 50%, and the Company decides to exercise its right to liquidate the client's open positions.

The margin rates per product depend on the underlying asset's historical performance, volatility, liquidity, market capitalization and other characteristics. The rates will also reflect the Company's financial strength and risk appetite and general economic climate and factor in the margin requirements imposed by its liquidity providers. Regulatory limitations applicable to margin rates will always be considered and complied with by the Company.

The margin rates are subject to change from time to time. The full and current list of financial instruments available for trading through our platform accompanied by their corresponding up-to-date ratios is available in our platforms.

The Company reserves the right to increase margin rates, for specific financial instruments, in relation to the prevailing market conditions. Where possible, the Company will provide its clients with a 3 (three) Business Days' notice of such changes, to allow the client to take appropriate measures. Changes in rates may be caused by:

- ✚ expected release of major announcements (elections, referendums);
- ✚ periods of low liquidity in the markets (holiday season);
- ✚ periods of abnormal market volatility; or
- ✚ any other situation which at the sole discretion of the Company justifies a change.

In addition, the Company reserves the right to Increase margin rates for specific client accounts, on a case by case evaluation. The Company might exercise this right at its sole discretion in cases where the trading style of specific accounts justifies such change, or in cases where a client account exceeds the Company's acceptable risk limits. The Company shall inform the client of such change.

7.3.8 Opening a Position

In order to give an instruction to open a position the Client shall specify the instrument and transaction size.

7.3.8.1 Instruments quoted in the Instant Execution mode

In order to open a position through the MT4 Platform without using an expert advisor the Client shall press the "Buy" or "Sell" button the instant he/she is satisfied with the prices in the Quotes Flow.

7.3.8.2 Processing and Execution of instructions to Open a position

Once the server has received the Client's instruction to open a position, it automatically checks if the Free Margin is sufficient to open the position:

- ✚ A “Free Margin” is calculated as $\text{Free Margin} = \text{Balance} - \text{New Margin} + \text{Floating Profit} - \text{Floating Loss}$;
- ✚ All Floating Profits/Losses for all Open positions and the new position are calculated at the current Quotes;
- ✚ If the aforementioned calculations for the new position have been done and:
 - In the event the Free Margin is more or equals to zero then the position is opened. The process of opening the position is followed by the relevant record in the server log-file;
 - In the event the Free Margin is less than zero then the Company has the right to decline the instruction to open the position and a notification “No Money” will appear and be recorded in the server log-file.
- ✚ The Company has the right to requote if the current Quote changes whilst a Dealer processes a Client's request or instruction. The requote window will be enabled if in the “Order” window there is a tick in the “Enable maximum deviation from quotes price” tick-box and the ‘Maximum deviation’ field value equals zero;
If the Client does not press the “OK” button within three (3) seconds the Quote becomes invalid and it will be concluded that the Client refuses to open a position.

An instruction to open a position shall be deemed executed and the position shall be deemed open once the relevant record appears in the server log-file.

In order to open a position, the following Orders may be used:

- ✚ “Buy Limit” an order to open a Long Position at the price lower than the price at the moment of placing the Order;
- ✚ “Sell Limit” an order to open a Short Position at the price higher than the price at the moment of placing the Order;
- ✚ “Buy Stop” an order to open a Long Position at the price higher than the price at the moment of placing the Order;
- ✚ “Sell Stop” an order to open a Short Position at the price lower than the price at the moment of placing the Order.

7.3.9 Closing a Position

In order to give an instruction to close a position the Client shall specify the ticker and transaction size.

7.3.9.1 Instruments quoted in the Instant Execution Mode

In order to close a position through the MT4 Platform without suing an expert advisor the Client shall press the “Close” button the moment the Client is satisfied with the Quote in the Quotes Flow.

7.3.9.2 Processing and Execution of Instruments to Close a position

The Company has the right to requote if the current Quote changes whilst a Dealer processes a Client’s request or instruction. The requote window will be enabled if in the “Order” window there is a tick in the “Enable Maximum deviation from quoted price” box and the ‘Maximum deviation’ field equals to zero. If the Client does not press “OK” within three (3) seconds the Quote becomes invalid and it will be concluded that the Client refuses to close a position.

In the event that a Client amongst his/her open positions wishes to close against a matching open position of the same instrument then the Client may do so by choosing from the drop-down list “Close by” item in the “Type”. Upon matching/closing the Client’s chosen positions the Client will have either a zero or net Long/Short Position based upon the net overall exposure. The Client should note that the net overall position will be allocated a new Ticker. The same applies if the Client has multiple position by choosing from the drop-down list “Multiple Close by” item in the “Type”.

An instruction to close a position is deemed executed and the position is deemed closed once the relevant record appears in the server log-file.

In order to close a position, the following Orders may be used:

- ✚ “Stop Loss” an order to close a previously opened position at the price less profitable for the Client than the price at the moment of placing the Order;
- ✚ “Take Profit” an order to close a previously opened position at the price more profitable for the Client than the price at the moment of placing the Order;
- ✚ “If-Done Order” Stop Loss and/or Take Profit which are activated once the Pending Order they are related to has been executed.

7.3.10 Stop Out

The Company is entitled to close the Client’s positions without the consent of the Client or any prior notice if the Equity is less than the level of Stop Out specified.

Margin level is monitored by the server whereby it generates the Stop Out instruction to close a position without prior consent. Stop Out is executed at the current Quote following the priority of the queue.

Once the position has been closed the relevant record appears in the server-log file with “Stop Out”.

If the Client has several Open Positions the first position which has to be placed in the queue in order to be closed is the one with the highest Floating Loss.

When the last Open Position is closed and there is no Price Gap or Price Gap on the Market Opening the Company shall guarantee that the execution of Stop Out for the last position will not result in Negative Equity (i.e. below zero) on the Client's trading account.

Negative balance protection is provided to all accounts held by the Company. In case the client balance goes negative after all positions close, the Company will cover the negative balance and will not request from Clients to cover the required amount.

The Company reserves the right to close any Open Positions of the Client without a warning in the event of a dispute.

7.4 Islamic Accounts

We may also contact you directly in the terms of a backup precaution. If we determine that a deposit is of high-risk or doesn't conform with our fraud and security policies, the deposit shall immediately be cancelled, and the funds shall immediately be returned to the credit/debit card through which the deposit was initially made. Furthermore, in these cases, we reserve the right being at our sole discretion, to close any and/or all of your Account(s) with Tradestone immediately. 23.2 EMIR Delegated Reporting Services – Legal Entities

Where the Client is a Legal Entity and is required to report its trades in derivative contracts under EMIR and Supporting Regulations, the Company and the Client may agree from time to time for the Company to report the Client's trades in derivative contracts with the Company to the relevant TR on the Client's behalf ("Delegated Reporting Service"). By subscribing to the Company's Delegated Reporting Service, the Client authorizes the Company to report the Client's trade-related data to any TR of the Company's choosing on the Client's behalf. Unless the Company and the Client otherwise agree, the Client acknowledges and accepts that the Company is responsible for obtaining a Legal Entity Identifier (hereinafter the "LEI") or an interim pre-LEI at its own cost, and providing that LEI or pre-LEI to the Company as soon as possible but in no event later than fifteen (15) calendar days following a request from the Company to provide such details.

The Company shall, at all times, perform its obligations and exercise discretion under this clause with reasonable care, provided that the Company shall not be required to do or cause to be done anything which:

- ✚ is not permitted or is in any way contrary to or inconsistent with the operating procedures of any Third-Party Service Provider or any TR (including any decision by a Third-Party Service Provider or any TR not to permit the Company to submit relevant data in accordance with these Terms and Conditions); or

- ✚ the Company's performance of its obligations or exercise of its rights under this clause;

- ✚ it is not subject to a clearing obligation pursuant to EMIR (or, in respect of an entity under clause 35.1(a)(ii) above, would not be subject to the clearing obligation if it were established in the European Union) in respect of the respective Transaction. For the purposes of this clause, it is assumed that the Transaction is of a type that has been declared to be subject to the clearing obligation in accordance with Article 5 of EMIR and is subject to the clearing obligation in accordance with Article 4 of EMIR (whether or not this is actually the case), and that any transitional provisions in EMIR are ignored.

25. Product Governance

We are required, when manufacturing and/or distributing financial instruments to establish implement and maintain policies, procedures and measures to ensure that the manufacturing and/or distribution of financial instruments comply with the relevant product governance requirements under MIFID II, in a way so as to ensure that it is appropriate and proportionate taking into account the nature of the financial instrument the investment service(s) and the needs and circumstances of the Target Market for that financial instrument.

The Company ensures that the design of the financial instrument including its features does not adversely affect its Clients or does not lead to problems with market integrity by enabling us to mitigate of its own risks or its exposures to the underlying assets of the product where We already hold the underlying assets on own account.

The Company has a Product Governance Policy in place which ensures that We manufactures financial products targeting a particular group of Clients, so that the product meets their interests, needs and objectives (target market). The Company also identifies a group of end-Clients where these products may not be offered due to the Company's assessment that the product does not meet their interests, needs and objectives (negative target market).

Moreover, for each target market, the Company shall identify appropriate distribution channels/venues and media of marketing so that the product is offered to the target market (to a possible extent).

The Company with this policy identifies information and practices that will enable to assess each individual end-Client's compatibility with its products and comply with the normal MiFID II disclosure, suitability/appropriateness assessment, inducements and conflicts of interest rules.

The Company is required to assess the client for his compatibility with the designated target market. In this respect the Company must collect additional information exceeding the information collected during the assessment of Appropriateness Test or collected via the personal details of the client and Economic Profile.

Therefore, the Company should also obtain information pertaining to the following:

- ✚ Ability to bear losses;
- ✚ Risk tolerance of the Client and compatibility with the risk/reward profile of the product;
- ✚ Client objectives and needs.

The information may be obtained during the Client onboarding phase, or in case of new product launches prior to allowing the client to invest in the product.

Furthermore, where relevant, the Company shall obtain, from Liquidity providers, information to gain the necessary knowledge of the products in order to ensure they will be manufactured in accordance with the needs, characteristics and objectives of the identified target market. Where the Liquidity provider is not subject to MiFID II, the Company is obliged to obtain adequate and reliable information to ensure that products will be manufactured and distributed in accordance with the characteristics, objectives and needs of the target market.

The Company shall use information obtained from Liquidity providers and information on its Clients to identify the target market and distribution strategy. Where, based on all information and data being at the Company's disposal, the Company assesses that a certain product will never be compatible with the needs and characteristics of its current or prospective Clients, it should exclude the product from its product assortment.

For the purposes of the said policy an end-client shall not mean any intermediary firm (i.e. other Brokers who become clients of the Company that offer Company products to their clients) but shall mean the final consumer in the intermediation chain.

26. Investor Compensation Fund

We are a member of the Investor Compensation Fund (hereinafter the “ICF”) for clients of CIFs and other investment firms which are not credit institutions. The object of the ICF is to secure the claims of the clients of regulated investment firms against members of the ICF through the payment of compensation, in cases where the CIF is unable due to financial circumstances and when no realistic prospect of improvement of such circumstances in the near future seems possible to either return to its Clients Funds owed to them or funds which belong to them but are directly or indirectly held by the CIF in the context of providing investment services to the said clients or to hand over to such clients the financial instruments which belong to them by which the CIF holds, manages or keeps on their account including in the event where the CIF is responsible for the administrative management of the said financial instruments.

The payment of compensation by the ICF to the Clients of its members is subject to the existence of a well-founded claim by such client(s) against the CIF arising from the investment services provided by the CIF for the client in question. The protection scheme is only available to certain types of claimants and claims. Payments to eligible claimants under the Scheme will vary depending on the type of protection claim the claimants hold with respect to the relevant institution.
